

ABOUT RACHEL HALE

Rachel Hale is a faithful Christian, devoted wife, mother of two, and small business owner. A native of East Texas, she ran in the 2022 primary for State Representative to champion our community's conservative values at the Texas Capitol.

Recognizing the impact of tyrannical and arbitrary government regulations during the coronavirus pandemic, Rachel became invested in the defense of liberty, limited government, and conservative principles.

After becoming more knowledgeable on the issues, Rachel began her work to hold government institutions accountable and create solutions. Originally speaking out against harmful curriculum at her local school board meeting, Rachel's journey would lead her to activist work across the State of Texas and Washington D.C.

Since picking up the mantle, Rachel has served on statewide textbook review committees, testified before the State Board of Education, the Texas House and Senate, advocated for parental rights and children at the Texas Capitol and D.C. Capitol, served as a resource to many families navigating the public education system, and much more. Currently, she serves as Rusk County Chairwoman, Executive Director with the Texas Freedom Coalition, a Representative for TURF, and Texas Education 9-1-1, Legislative Liaison for Texas Eagle Forum, and SD 1 Coordinator for Grassroots America We the People.
